GENERAL REMARKS.

The Institution was incorporated by the Legislature of Ohio, in February, 1829; and the Charter was amended by an additional Act in 1838. The Trustees are appointed for life, and fill all vacancies in their own body and in the Faculty, as they occur. The name is derived from Messrs. Ebenezer and Andrew Lane, who made the first considerable donation in money. A literary department was organized in 1829, which was discontinued in 1834. Since that time the institution has been exclusively devoted to theological teaching.

Theological instruction was given to some extent previous to 1834; and the names of all the theological students of that period are arranged in the first class, in the General Catalogue. The first class regularly graduated, entered in 1834, ten of whom completed the full course. From this time, the Catalogue includes the names of all who were members of the institution one year or more. The Catalogues of subsequent classes may be expected to be confined to those who shall complete the course. All upon the Catalogue, not specially designated, have entered the ministry, with some few exceptions not definitely known to the Faculty.

Properly speaking, we issue our first general catalogue at the close of ten years existence as a Theological Seminary. The results of this ten years' labor, considering the difficulties attending the establishment of such an institution in a new country, amid a population as yet unassimilated in feelings and habits, and whose schools, academies and colleges are of comparatively recent origin, are indeed highly encouraging.

The friends of the institution, and of religion and learning generally—thankful for what has already been accomplished, will feel encouraged to do whatever may be necessary for the highest efficiency of the Seminary; and will give their prayers that the labors of the two hundred and forty young men, who have enjoyed and now enjoy its advantages, may be abundantly blessed by the Head of the Church.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission must produce satisfactory testimonials, that they are members, in good standing, of some Christian Church; that they possess competent talents; that they have been regularly graduated at some College or University, or have pursued a course of study equivalent to the common college course. Applicants for admission to an advanced standing, must be prepared for examination on the subjects that have been studied by the Class which they wish to enter.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The Course occupies three years; and every student is expected to enter with the intention of completing the full course. As far as practicable, the different branches are pursued simultaneously. The department of Biblical Literature occupies three days in the week during the first year, two during the second, and one during the third; Systematic Theology, two days in the week, during the whole course of three years; Church History, one day in the week through the whole course; Sacred Rhetoric and Pastoral Theology, one day in the week the first year, two the second, and three the third. The object in this arrangement is to afford a pleasant variety of study, and to keep up a proper interest in all the departments through the whole course. Hitherto the plan has been pursued with results highly satisfactory to the Faculty.

I.—BIBLICAL LITERATURE.

The student should provide himself with a good edition of the Hebrew Bible with points, a Greek Testament, the Septuagint translation, and the Hebrew and Greek Lexicons of Gesenius and Robinson.

The following table exhibits the subjects of lectures in their order, and a few of the books most useful to be read on the several topics discussed in the lectures.

All the books here mentioned, and many others of the same kind, are found in the Library, to which every student has free access.

TERM TIME.

The Annual Term of Study commences on the second Wednesday in September, and closes on the second Wednesday in June, which is the Anniversary. The term is closed by a thorough public examination.

LIBRARY.

THE SEMINARY LIBRARY contains 10,000 vols.; the greater part of which was selected with great care by one of the Professors, who went to Europe for the express purpose of purchasing the books. There are here found, not only the standard works in all the departments pertaining to a theological course, but also a very rich variety of authors in general literature and science. THE LIBRARY OF THE SOCIETY OF INQUIRY contains 326 volumes.

THE READING ROOM AND ATHENÆUM contains 21 newspapers, and 24 of the most valuable Literary and Theological periodicals.

MANUAL LABOR.

Every Student is expected to labor three hours a day at some agricultural or mechanical business. While the leading aim of this regulation is to promote health and vigor of both body and mind, compensation is received according to the value of the labor. The avails of manual labor are much affected by the state of business in the city. In times of commercial prosperity, students have frequently earned one hundred dollars a year, exclusive of their earnings during the twelve weeks of vacation.

EXPENSES.

There is no charge for Tuition. The rooms are fully furnished, and rented at $5 per annum. Incidental expenses, including fuel and lights for public rooms, ringing bell, and sweeping, $5. Room rent and incidental bill, to be paid in advance. Funds are collected annually for the aid of indigent students, by means of which board is furnished to such gratuitously. To those not receiving assistance from the funds, the price is about 90 cents. The cost of fuel and lights for each student, will average from $8 to $12 per annum.

Failure to return within one week after the opening of the Term, without previous notice of the cause of the delay, shall vacate the room.

* * Letters to any of the Faculty or Students, or others connected with the Seminary, should be directed to WALNUT HILLS, OHIO.
